GERMAN PRESS BITTERLY ASSAILS TERMS SAYING THEY CAN NEVER SUBMIT TO SUCH SLAVERY

USUAL WAIL OF A WHIPPED DOG

BERLIN, May 8, Delayed—"The government has instructed its delegates to make counter proposals and claim the right of oral discussion" declared Chancellor Scheidemann in a statement. "We are dealing with an enemy blinded by self-policies," he said. Referring to President Wilson's fourteen points Scheidemann said "What becomes of the exchange of guarantees indicated in the fourth point. Count Brockdorff Rantzau faithfully interpreted the feeling of the empire when he said that we will examine the terms with good will."

BERLIN, May 8, Delayed—The Berlin press was unanimously bitter today in denouncing the peace terms.

"To accept means poverty, hunger and slavery," said the Tages Zeitung.

"The terms could not have been worse. Wilson's fourteen points are invisible," observed the Taglische Randschau.

"The most humiliating point is the demand for the Kaiser's surrender. The treaty oversteps the blackest expectations," according to the Tageblatt.

By FRED S. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, May 9—Work on the Austrian peace treaty is very nearly completed it was learned today. The "big four" called in economic and reparation experts to work out final details of the pact.

Aside from dissatisfaction with the apportionments of the mandatories by some of the Allies the German treaty apparently receives the full approval of all the Allied delegates themselves.

The Belgians have filed a protest with the "big four" against awarding the British the mandatory over German east Africa because of the important part played by the Belgians in the conquest of that region.

Unofficial reports have also been circulated that the Italians regret being cut off entirely from mandatories.

ST. LOUIS FEDERAL DISTRICT FIRST TO GO OVER TOP

WASHINGTON, May 9—The St. Louis Federal Reserve district has "finished the job" in the Victory Liberty Loan campaign. Subscriptions totalling $195,104,000 have been reported by that district to the treasury. Officials believe St. Louis is the first district to obtain its quota.

TWO NAVAL PLANES REACH HALIFAX OTHER TURNS BACK FOR REPAIRS

CHATHAM, Mass., May 9—The trans-Atlantic sea plane NC 4 which became disabled while flying from Rockaway Beach to Halifax landed at the naval air station here at 5:12 o'clock this morning. The NC 4 was forced to turn back on account of engine trouble, it was stated by naval officials. The plane landed here to make minor repairs after which it will start for Rockaway Beach, New York, where permanent repairs will be completed. According to plans the plane will make another start from Rockaway Beach as soon as possible. If it lands at Trepssey Bay, Newfoundland before the NC 3 and NC 1 start on the long journey across the Atlantic it will join the flight. Should the plane arrive after the others have started it was said that no attempt will be made to follow them.

GET A HELMET SATURDAY NIGHT

The General Victory Loan Committee has fourteen captured German helmets which will be chanced off to bond buyers some day next week. Every persons name appearing on a subscription blank will have an even chance at one of these helmets.

The Ladies Committee also have a quantity of helmets to dispose of and they have decided to auction their quota of helmets tomorrow evening just prior to the parade, probably about eight o'clock. The auction will be held from the steps of the Court House. The helmets will go to the biggest subscriber in the crowd. Be on hand for the auction. You may not have to buy a very big amount of bonds to get one of these coveted helmets.

URGE EVERYBODY TO SHOP EARLY TOMORROW

Bond Buyer's Parade Will Form On Second And Walnut And Follow Short Route

HAVE YOU QUALIFIED FOR IT

Practically every industry in Clearfield will be represented in the Bond Buyers parade which is scheduled for tomorrow evening at nine o'clock. Following is the proposed lineup for the parade. Watch tomorrow evening's paper for further information.

Keep in mind that there are hundreds of store employees and tradesmen who will want to take a part in this demonstration of "job finishers" and do your shopping early tomorrow. Get your orders in early in the morning or if you pay and carry get up town early in the evening. This late Saturday night shopping is unfair to the merchant anyhow. Satrt tomorrow to buy early and keep it up for the balance of the year.

Business houses and residences are urged to display flags in profusion tomorrow.

Competent marshals will be selected and the parade will move promptly at nine o'clock.

The line of march will not be long. Down Second to Market; thence to Third; down Third to Reed; across Reed to Second; up Second to Market; counter march on Second and disband.

Parade formation will be as follows:

DRY LEGISLATION UP MONDAY

HARRISBURG, May 9 — The "search and seizure" amendment to the Fox Prohibition enforcement bill will furnish the excitement for next Monday's session of the House. The contest will be between the wets who are supporting the search and seizure amendment and the drys who are opposing it. The search and seizure amendment was made to the Fox bill at a time when great confusion prevailed in the House. Representative Fox, of Philadelphia, did not even know his bill has been amended until several days after the trick had been turned.

PROPAGATION OF GAME FISH IS EXPLAINED

Chief of Fisheries Department For The State Is Guest Of Local Fishermen

BANQUET AT THE DIMELING

Clearfield fishermen had as their guest last evening State Fish Commissioner Nathan R. Buller, who drove up from Harrisburg in his car to meet our piscatorial experts and near-experts in response to an invitation extended him some two months or more ago.

Mr. Buller has been connected with the State Department of Fisheries since 1876 and is regarded as one of the most expert fish culturists in the country. He has been the head of the Dpartment of Fisheries since 1911 and under his capable direction great strides forward have been made in fish production and propagation. Mr. Buller "knows his business" and is eminently the right man in the right place.

At 8 o'clock last evening he talked to about one hundred dyed in the wool disciples of Izaak Walton in the court room and explained to them the operations of the department and the many propositions they were up against with the limited funds at their command.

According to Mr. Buller's statement there are more than 4000 streams and lages throughout the state which contain fish and are under the jurisdiction and care of the fisheries department, and at the present time it was simply impossible to even think of being able to adequately provide the necessary fish for propagating purposes.

The Commissioner stated that it was absolutely necessary that more money be provided for fish culture and as the present revenues for the state were insufficient the only way funds could be secured was by a fisherman's license law similar to the hunters' licence.

He said under the bill recommended by the department and now under consideration in the legislature a license fee of $1.00 is provided for all persons over 16 years of age, farmers and women excepted. The bill had been defeated in the House at Harrisburg, but is scheduled for another consideration on Monday or Tuesday next and a resolution was unanimously passed asking the members of the Legislature from Clearfield county to vote for and support the bill at this time.

Mr. Buller talked on the matter of stream pollution in the state and said here again was the department handicapped for funds and could accomplish little along this line because of having but ten inspectors or warders for the whole state. In this connection also Mr. Buller stated that in the matter of stream pollution it was a case of the lesser giving way to the greater, that is to say, where the benefit to be gained by an industry, mine or factory was so much greater than the value of the fish to be conserved by forcing the pollution out of the streams to the great disadvantage of the aforementioned concern, there could be no question what course would have to be taken. He cited the McCall's Ferry dam as a concrete illustration. He said this was the second largest power plant in the United States with a capital of $15,000,000; the dam was built under an order from the Dauphin county court and while the Fisheries department would gladly see built and the Power Co. were ready and willing to construct a fishway by which shad might negotiate the dam, they had never been able to evolve any plan which would do the work and he gave it as his personal opinion that it was practically impossible on account of the conditions to contend with to ever make possible the construction of a practical fishway at this dam.

Following the meeting in the court house all hands repaired to the Dimeling where a sumptuous banquet was tendered Mr. Buller. Manager McGinnis and his able corps of assistants did themselves proud on this occasion and a most enjoyable evening was the result.

J. D. Connelly officiated as toastmaster and speeches were made by Leslie Stewart, Hon. Joseph E. Phillips, Bert Rowles, P. W. Hurd, J. Emory Gearhart, Secretary Graffius and Mr. Buller.

The Fish Commissioner talked most interestingly of his work and gave a detailed story of fish propagation. He outlined trout raising and showed that where under natural conditions but from three to five per cent. of the eggs deposited by the female trout became fertilized and developed fish, under the artificial methods in use at the state fish hatcheries from sixty to seventy per cent. of the egg deposits are made to produce fish.

Mr. Buller advocated the establishment of auxiliary hatcheries throughout the state in addition to the fully equipped plants now in operation and expressed himself as favoring the location of one of these auxiliary hatcheries in Clearfield county. Under his proposed plan the eggs would be produced in the hatching beds maintained as at present and would then be shipped to the auxiliary hatcheries for hatching and development. These auxiliary hatcheries will be made possible if the Fisherman's license bill goes through.

Following his remarks Mr. Buller answered a lot of questions about fish culture and propagation fired at him by the fishermen present. He said Erie was the largest fishing port in the state and the annual yield of food fishes taken from Lake Erie out of Pennsylvania waters amounted to more than 38,000 tons while 22,000 tons were taken on the Canadian side of the lake. These fish are raised largely through artificial means.

Mr. Buller in answer to a question also stated that a brook or brown trout would grow from two to ten inches in a year, its growth depending of course on environment and food.

FIND TRUE BILL IN MYSTERIOUS MURDER CASE

Ralph Ardary Must Go On Trial Next Week For Alleged Murder of His Cousin

BRILLIANT ARRAY OF COUNSEL

The grand jury returned a true bill yesterday afternoon in the case of Com. vs. Ralph Ardary. Ralph Ardary is charged with the murder of his cousin Lawrence Ardary, and his case will be tried next week before Judge Bell.

District Attorney Arnold will conduct the prosecution and A. M. Liveright and A. H. Woodward, Esqs. will have charge of the defense.

Ralph Ardary is a son of the late George Ardar, the well known Lawrence township farmer, who was found dying in his bed, with a bullet wound through his head a couple of months previous to the shooting affray in which Lawrence Ardary lost his life. This affair occurred in the barn on the George Ardary farm.

The Ardary double shooting is about the most perplexing mystery in the recent criminal history of Clearfield county and next week's trial will create much more than usual interest among the people of this section of the county, and following our usual custom of giving all the news in snappy up to date style The Progress will cover the case thoroughly.

TEN THOUSAND FIGHTING YANKS LANDED IN NEW YORK TODAY

NEW YORK, May 9—Four transports carrying 10,532 American soldiers coming home from the war arrived here today. They were the Mongolia, Great Northern, St. Cecelia, and the Kentuckian. Troops of the 28th division 32nd division Michigan and Wisconsin, and 82nd Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee were among the arrivals. The units on the Mongolia included the 53rd Artillery Brigade headquarters for Camp Dix, 107th Field Artillery, mostly for Camp Dix, 109th Field Artillery, Camp Dix, 103d Sanitary Train, detachment of 103rd Engineers, 28th division Headquarters and scattered casuals. Brigadier General Wm. C. Price, commander of the 53rd Field Artillery Brigade arrived. Most of the Mongolia's troops were the 28th division men.

BACK FROM FLANDERS

'Tis summer now in Flanders Field,
Where our loved ones are sleeping,
And here at home our hearts are full;
Some of us are weeping.

They paid the debt and shall we not,
Of this our share be keeping?
Perhaps your boy is home again,
And all give joyful greeting.
Your neighbors boys all will not come,
To them joy seems so fleeting.

Let's pay the debt that we all owe,
That through all time the world may know
We don't forget why poppies grow
On mounds we own "in Flanders."

PRESIDENT WILSON APPEALS TO YOU!

WASHINGTON, May 9—President Wilson today appealed to the American people to make the Victory Liberty Loan "a great popular thanks offering."

In a cable to Secretary Glass the President declared that a victorious peace should be accompanied by a successful financial backing.

GERMANY WILL ACT ON TERMS WITHIN TIME

By Fred S. Ferguson

PARIS, May 9—That Germany will make known her decision regarding the peace treaty well within the 15 day time limit was the opinion that prevailed in official circles here today. Use the Gasoline the Trucks Use

Truck-owners do not buy gasoline by guess. They know. They keep records of the gasoline put in and the miles taken out. They buy Power.

It is not surprising, then, that Atlantic Gasoline is the choice of the majority of truck-owners.

Trucks are not driven for pleasure. They are a business proposition, pure and simple. They must make good on a business basis. Hauling costs are determined to the penny.

What is the lesson for you? Simply this:

Truck-users have experimented for you. They have found that Atlantic gives the most. No sentiment in that. Cold fact based on day-after-day experience with loads and roads. Atlantic is their choice. For Atlantic is Power.

In the light of such experience, will you continue to ask merely for "gasoline"?

Or, will you say, state, declare and affirm that you want Atlantic Gasoline and that no other motor-fuel will do?

Use the gasoline the trucks use.

COLLEGE SANDWICHES.

There is no place where a sandwich is more appreciated than at a college girls' luncheon. They may be prepared from countless combinations, costly or otherwise. The bread for sandwiches should be a day or two old and sliced very thin. When butter is used for the first spreading, it is best creamed, as it may be thus spread very thin.

Sandwich de Luxe.—Mix a few stalks of shredded mint with quince jelly and spread this mixture on slices of stale sponge cake cut very thin and put together sandwich fashion.

Nuts With Dates.—Take equal quantities of dates and nuts, run through a meat chopper and add to each cupful of the mixture one-quarter of a cup of maple sugar with enough cream to make a mixture to spread. Use as a filling on bread, toasted sponge cake, or any loaf cake.

Japanese Sandwiches.—Use equal quantities of almonds and preserved cherries, chop the cherries or grind them and pound the almonds to a paste, mix with a little almond extract and if moisture is needed, a little cream.

Mexican Hots.—Chop one tomato, one onion and one green pepper, season with salt, red pepper and vinegar; spread on wafers or bread.

Chocolate, two squares, melted and partly cooled, then add one-half cup of brown sugar and two tablespoonfuls of cream. Flavor with vanilla and add a few chopped nut meats. This makes an unusual sandwich.

SEASONABLE FOOD.

Beef hearts are not expensive and when stuffed make a most savory meat.

Calves' hearts may be cut in slices and cooked in hot fat until well browned and served with baked potatoes.

Lamb Goulash.—Take two lamb's hearts well-washed and all the arteries removed, cut in inch-sized pieces and parboil. Mince very fine, eight onions, three green peppers, place in a deep saucepan and add the prepared hearts, one teaspoonful of thyme, a pinch of sage, and a quart of boiling water; cook until the meat is tender then add a dozen dumplings made as follows: one beaten egg, a half-teaspoonful of salt, a cupful of buttermilk, a teaspoonful of baking powder sifted with a cupful of flour; add enough flour to make a soft drop batter and steam eight minutes if the dumplings are dropped from a teaspoon.

Veal Cutlets.—Cut veal steak into pieces two by three inches and flatten well, dip in egg then in bread crumbs and fry a golden brown in hot fat. Place in the oven to finish cooking for twenty minutes. Drain the fat from the pan, and add two tablespoonfuls of flour. Brown quickly and add a cupful of water. Bring to a boil and cook five minutes. Add a teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of paprika, one tablespoonful of grated onion and two tablespoonfuls of minced green pepper. Place the meat on a platter and pour the sauce around it.

Lamb or Mutton With Carrots.—The woolly flavor of mutton which is so objectionable to many palates, may be almost wholly removed by care in preparation, provided the butcher has been careful. The meat should never be touched by hands that have handled the wool. The wool grows on the skin, and if the skin is carefully removed it takes with it that woolly flavor. Brown a slice of mutton, cut in serving sized pieces, and sprinkle with a generous dredging of flour; season well, add a finely-minced onion and a pint of canned corn (Shoepeg), with water to simmer for two or three hours on the back of the stove or in a moderate oven. The flour will thicken the broth a little for a gravy. Serve the corn with the gravy.

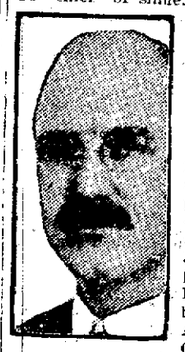
The Chief of Sinners

By REV. L. W. GOSNELL
Assistant Dean, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—This is a faithful saying, worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.—1 Tim. 1:15.

A number of people have claimed to be "chief" of sinners. We might not be surprised at this, in itself, but it is surprising to learn the character of the people who have made this claim. Paul asserted it after years spent in the service of Christ preceded by years of correct living as a Pharisee. John Bunyan, a prisoner of the Lord, entitles his biography "Grace Abounding to the Chief of Sinners." John Wesley, always correct in his outward life, and for more than half a century a zealous worker for God, voiced his feelings in the lines:



"I the chief of sinners am,
But Jesus died for me."

Why do these men, whom we regard as the greatest saints, so describe themselves? Certain it is that they are not hypocrites, like the man in Robert Burns' poem who called himself the chief of sinners and went on sinning so that grace might abound! It is just as certain they were not in that state of mind so well described in the following words of Robert Murray McCheyne: "Is it possible, think you, for a person to be conceited of his miseries? May there not be a deep leaven of pride in telling how desolate and how unfeeling we are—in brooding over our unearthly pains—in our being excluded from the sympathies of the world—in our being the invalids of Christ's hospital?" The men of whom we have been speaking believed on Christ and rejoiced in his salvation, yet still called themselves the chief of sinners. Again we ask, why do they so describe themselves?

We would sum up an answer in these words: Saints know their own sins better than anyone else and better than the sins of anyone else. They feel the possibilities of evil stirring within them and understand why the martyr exclaimed, as he watched the murderer who passed by on the way to the gallows, "There I go, but for the grace of God." John Bunyan's chief sins, in his unregenerate days, were profanity and lying, but one has said: "It was spiritual sins which in after years laid their heavy weight over his conscience, and these, as his greatest biographer well says, may be even more deadly than sensual sins in their moral recoil, laying bare the powers of the soul." No matter how close to Christ we walk, our sense of obligation to him for saving and keeping us will be so profound that we shall say sincerely, "Sinners, of whom I am chief."

How happy that Paul can assure us, "This is a faithful saying, worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." Some find it hard to believe this good news. Referring to John Bunyan again, we recall how he feared the day of grace was past for him. How happy he was to read the Scripture which says, "Compel them to come in," and the further statement, "Yet there is room." Coming to more recent days, we think of Samuel Hadley, for many years the superintendent of the Water Street mission of New York. He had fallen very low in sin and seemed a hopeless victim of drink. When he sought the Lord his one question was, "Dear Jesus, can you help me?" How blessed to know that the saying is faithful, reliable and worthy of acceptation by all men everywhere, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.

Even if we had no such explicit statement, his very name would assure us of his mission. "Christ" is the Greek form of the Jewish "Messiah" and tells us that this is the one so long foretold by prophets as coming to bear the sins of the world. "Jesus" is the Greek form of the Hebrew "Joshua," meaning "God is Saviour." But we are not left to an inference from his names but are plainly told that his very purpose in coming into the world was "to save sinners." He saves us, not in spite of the fact that we are sinners, but because of that very fact. We recall the man who went to good Lady Huntingdon in great distress of soul and crying, "I am lost!" "How glad I am," she replied, "for the Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost."

Wondrous Works of God.

"Stand still and consider the wondrous works of God," says the Bible. Religion will improve by getting more of nature in it, and men will improve by loving it. Says Cowper: "Nature is but a name for an effect whose cause is God." If one takes the golden rule with him he can get to heaven by following the path that leads among the flowers and the woods. This should be understood, for it purifies the heart and brings about the upward look. There is less hope for a man who does not read God's own word in his works

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

The death of Oliver C. Livingston, one of Curwensville's best known citizens, occurred at his home on Main street early Thursday morning after a short illness.

Deceased was born at this place where, with the exception of a few years, he has always resided. After several years employment at the Summit tannery he went into business for himself, conducting a restaurant until about a year ago when ill health forced him to dispose of it.

He was married to Miss Annie Lorimer who with three sons, William, of Pittsburgh; Paul, enlisted in the navy and Charles, with the A. E. F. in France survive him. Also two sisters Mrs. J. C. Wright, of this place, and Mrs. Samuel Irvin of Lewistown, Pa. and one brother Meade Livingston.

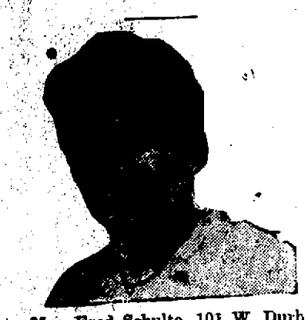
Speaks Good Word For Her Rescuer



Mrs. Fred Schulte, 101 W. Durham St. Philadelphia, believes in giving credit where credit is due. "I had a run-down system," she says, "and suffered from stomach trouble and a nervous form of indigestion. I would get all upset with a sort of inside nervousness, sometimes with headaches around my temples and eyes. Felt as if something inside me would just jump out and I had more or less gastritis with it all. I heard where Tanlac had helped cases like mine. In Argentina every man over twenty who does not get married is taxed $5 a month for every month he remains single, until he is thirty. If he has still fougt shy of matrimonial bliss at tis age the tax is increased to $10 a month until he is thirty-five. From thirty-five to fifty the tax is $20 a month, and then $30 a month till seventy-five. Hearty old bachelors over that age, however, are taxed only $30 a month, on the principle that no blushing spinster will look at them.

Tristan da Cunha, in the South Atlantic, is one of the most isolated islands in the world, and its history has been exceedingl romantic. The first settlers there were two shipwrecked mariners, who were washed up on its shores more than a hundred years ago. The population has since been increased by other shipwrecked folk, and by people who have been attracted there by the glamor of island lif. Today, the island has a population of 108 persons.

CLEARFIELD'S MOST TALENTED AMATEURS TO PRESENT "THE MIKADO" NEXT WEEK

OLD-TIME STARS WILL APPEAR IN OPERA

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of Next Week To Be Big Nights For Music Lovers

"KO-KO" WILL MAKE YOU SMILE

Clearfield theatre-goers will be given the opportunity to hear on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week, the charming rendition of Gilbert & Sullivan's melodious masterpiece of comic opera, the tuneful "Mikado." This old but ever young and welcome favorite will be given at the New Driggs theatre by the very best of local talent under the direction of James Kerr, whose reputation as a producer of amateur theatricals is thoroughly in keeping with the extremely high class of the production to be given.

Every part has been exceptionally well taken and the thirty or forty people engaged have worked long, hard and faithfully to equip themselves for a proper interpretation of the pleasing characters and charming music which has long served to make "The Mikado" famous and justly popular in every spot where tuneful music is known and clever acting appreciated.

The principal characters are assumed as follows:

The Mikado of Japan — Paul Stauffer

Nanki-Poo, (His son disguised as a wandering minstrel and in love with Yum-Yum) — John H. Fulford

Ko-Ko (Lord High Executioner of Titipu) — J. Fred Weaver

Pooh-Bah (Lord High Everything Else) — John M. Bain

Pish-Tush (a Noble Lord) — Way Powell

Yum-Yum — Mrs. Cornelia Reeves

Pitti-Sing — Mrs. Rebecca Stauffer

Peep-Bo — Miss Rebecca Smith

Three Sisters, wards of Ko-Ko

Katisha (an elderly lady, in love with Nanki-Poo) — Miss Augusta Connelly

Chorus of school girls, nobles guards and coolies.

The production will be admirably and most effectively staged. Handsome Japanese scenery depicting the court yard of Ko-Ko's official residence and garden has been provided while the grace and beauty of scene and actors will be greatly enhanced by the gorgeous costumes worn.

A glance at the 'dramatis personæ" will readily confirm our statement that the very cream of local talent has been engaged for these performances and those familiar with Clearfield amateur theatricals in the past will readily guarantee the unlimited success of the production and the pleasure in store for those fortunate enough to be able to attend one or all of the performances.

This entertainment is being given under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Clearfield hospital and the proceeds to be derived therefrom will be utilized for the benefit of this splendid institution which means so much to suffering humanity in and about Clearfield and almost the whole of Clearfield county.

Every person who can possibly do so should make it a point to attend one of these performances of "The Mikado," or if unable to be present should at least show his appreciation of the efforts of Producer Kerr and his players and the institution to be the sole beneficiary by purchasing tickets therefor.

"The Mikado" will be well worth your presence and attention from an artistic and entertainment standpoint, while the charitable object, we reiterate, makes it your duty as a public spirited citizen to support this worthy project.

The Flow of Meat

Two-thirds of the live stock in the United States has to be raised in the West.

One-half of the consumers of meat live in the East.

In other words, most of the live stock is one or two thousand miles distant from most of the people who need it in the form of food.

Fifty years ago, when live stock was raised close to every consuming center, the country butcher could handle the job after a fashion.

But the job got too big.

Now millions of animals have to be moved hundreds of miles to millions of people. Somewhere on the way they have to be turned into meat.

The packers solved the problem. They set up plants where the "live haul" and the "meat haul" were in the right balance. They eliminated waste. They built up distributing systems—refrigerator cars, refrigerating plants, branch houses. They saved time, money and meat everywhere. The stockraiser benefited in better markets and higher prices; the consumer, in better meat and lower prices.

As the country grew, the packers had to grow, or break down. Because of its present size and efficiency, Swift & Company is able to perform its part in this service at a fraction of a cent per pound profit.

MILITARISM GROWS IN GERMANY UNDER EXCUSE OF "BOLSHEVISM"

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, April 24 (By Mail)—Since its birth the German Republic has had to decide between two opposite extremes to maintain itself and keep from being overthrown by the radicals.

The two courses open, as the Ebert-Scheidemann cabinet saw them, were.

1. Bowing to the demands of the proletariat and becoming radical, almost to the extent of communism, or at least extreme socialism.

2. Becoming militaristic and following the methods of the old German government of crushing opposition by force.

More and more it is becoming clear that the cabinet chose the latter course, probably in self-defense, and under the pretext of saving Germany from bolshevism.

What is more serious, both to the Germans and other peoples, is that the German Republic is becoming handy with militarism, and under the cover of "resisting bolshevism" is evidently trying to hide the strength of the Republic's military machine.

Figuring that the new Republic, if it were really pacific, would be willing to make a "show-down" of Germany's military strength to convince the outside world of good intentions, the United Press correspondent asked the War Office for some data.

Finally the War Office sent for the correspondent and an agreeable young captain, explained how weak Germany s at present militarily. He said Germany could not even resist the bolsheviks if the latter chose to rise.

Asked what the actual strength of the German forces is, the captain replied that the War Office itself dio not know. This ignorance of the War Office, he explained by the fact that numerous leaders were organizing new volunteer units. The captain declined to guess the strength of the German forces on the grounds that he did not want the figures published "for fear the bolsheviks would see how weak the militia is and overthrow it."

Every man in the army is a volunteer, according to the War Office. Berlin is crowded with soldiers scattered over the city, but this is due to the fact, says the War Office, that members of the old army regulars who are no longer on active duty, have to be housed. Hence the crowded barracks. The War Office offered no explanation as to why these men were fed and housed, though inactive and the active work of guarding Berlin is done largely by provincial troops.

Enlistment is indefinite, in the volunteer units, with the condition that

GENERAL LABOR NEWS

The National Association of Laundry Workers has a membership of over 6,000.

Labor unions in the United States have a total membership of over 3,000,000.

The Blythe (Eng.) Soldiers and Sailors' federation has refused to join the Labor party.

Chemical workers' wages in England have increased to a greater extent than the cost of living.

Teamsters, chauffeurs, retail clerks and textile workers in Long Beach, Cal., have organized.

Organized cap makers in New Haven, Conn., have secured a flat wage increase of $2 per week.

Over 10,000,000 workers are represented by the 800 delegates attending the big British parliament.

Fire fighters in Macon, Ga., have formed a union with the idea of having their wages increased.

Three thousand flour mill employees in Mexico City are demanding an eight-hour day and higher wages.

It is estimated that 55,000 people out of the 90,000 now employed by the government as clerks will be retained.

Miners of Nova Scotia were admitted to membership in the United Mine Works of America. The decision affects 12,000 workers.

Foremen in the Hog Island shipbuilding yard have accepted a compromise of $2 a week increase in wages instead of $6, which they demanded.

Labor conditions for the near future will most likely be based on a universal eight-hour day in all countries, both European and American.

The epidemic of child labor spreading at alarming rate should receive immediate remedial attention, to offset future evil.—Schenectady Union Star.

The strike of textile workers, which has been in progress eight weeks, involving 13,000 men and women and which resulted in serious rioting, was settled at a conference at Passaic, N. J.

Wage increases of 10 per cent, with time and a half for overtime, and retroactive to November 1, 1918, were awarded by the war labor board in the case of Brushmakers' Local No. 35, against the Chicago Brush Manufacturing company.

Constitutionality of the Arizona act of 1913 limiting employment of women to eight hours a day was upheld by the Supreme court in disposing of appeals attacking the act on the ground that it discriminated between the employment of waitresses in railroad restaurants and other restaurants.

The strike of 7,000 white goods workers at New York was brought to a close when a mass meeting of girls in Cooper Union ratified an agreement conceding to them the 44-hour work week, a 10 per cent increase in wages, and the union shop. The agreement is to last two years. It was drawn up by Dr. Henry Moskowitz, who settled the white goods strike of 1913.

Three hundred German women factory workers, many of them widows of soldiers, have applied to the Third American army headquarters in Coblenz for employment, claiming that with the ending of the war they had been thrown out of work.

The United Cotton Textile factory Workers' association in England has decided to recommend a scheme for a 44-hour week, the present hours worked in the cotton trade being 55½ a week. About 500,000 operatives are interested in the movement.

That wages should not be reduced while the agreement between the government and the United Mine Workers was still in force, but that after March 31, when the agreement expires, they will be free to act as they wish, was the advice given by W. H. Armstrong, Alberta representative of the Canada fuel board, to the local coal operators.

The Spanish government has issued a decree establishing an eight hour day in the building trades. This action, it is believed, will settle the lockout of the building contractors against their employees.

Suppose Your Laundress Paid You $1.50 a Week?

It is rather difficult to suppose—but, then, there are human laundresses, and the mechanical kind. Genuine wash-day economy is part of the year-in-and-year-out benefit of the

MOTOR HIGH SPEED WASHER

It saves time—at least three hours a week—156 hours a year—or half a month annually, and that surely averages a dollar a week.

It saves clothes: No more tearing or rubbing the goodness out of garments and linen. It saves fuel—and it promotes health, because the steam and slop of wash-day vanishes with the drudgery.

The saving is real—and constant, and you should call, soon, to see the Motor High Speed Washer!

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

MILITARISM GROWS IN GERMANY

a man can leave the militia upon giving four weeks notice. Every unit has a band, many of the first rate. Guards with rifles ready are everywhere, and auto trucks armed with machine guns roam about the city in search for trouble. Barbed wire barricades are not removed from many streets since the last fighting.

Except for a wave of crime, robbery and plundering, which swept Berlin the last week in March, Berlin is well protected. The War Office is busy and rushing. Swank officers are numerous and are as monocled and military as in the old days. Democracy is manifested, however, in the agreeable way the War Office treat outsiders—a new thing in Germany.

So much for what the War Office wanted United Press readers to believe. What the War Office wanted United Press readers to believe. What the War Office did not give out through the agreeable captain was gathered through a major who has been converted to pacifism. He sought out a friend high up in the War Office and secured some first hand information, because he believed publicity might lead to action which may prevent the re-birth of militarism in Germany.

The friend in the War Office remarked in answer to the major's query as to Germany's strength. "Well, we could muster a million men along the Rhine in less than a week. They'd have plenty of cannon and machine-guns and ammunition to hold out for a while, in a pinch."

The "high up" said Germany has more than two-hundred seventy-five thousand helmeted men under arms, in actual service now. Of these, seventy thousand are in Berlin, sixty thousand are in the Rhur district, guarding the industrial district, supposedly, and the remainder are scattered between the Polish front and other cities in which disturbances are expected.

A noticeable feature is that the majority of troops are not along the Bolshevik front, but are scattered between the Polish front and other cities in which disturbances are expected.

A noticeable feature is that the majority of troops are not along the Bolshevik front, but are scattered over the country. The government evidently fears radicalism much more from within than from without. The government is determined to crush all opposition. Practically all of Germany is in a state of siege. This state has never been lifted from Berlin. There are thirty thousand reserve officers in Berlin, all registered and within call.

An additional source of troops is the so-called "citizens' guard," civilians who are ready to report on call, under government orders. The War Office, said the War Office man, knows where the machine-guns, grenades, and other supplies are located.

Government troops are becoming more and more loyal, due to the privilege and the food they get. While the women and children are hungry, good food is allowed to spoil, reserved for military emergencies.

The Berliner Tageblatt printed on exposure on April 3 of how in Hamburg, enormous military supplies of butter, bacon, ham, conserves, beans, rice rye meal, cocoa and other foods were rotting while, thousands in the city starved.

Radical and pacifist Germany dreads this growth of the military under the pretext of preparing to combat bolshevism. The radicals and pacifists include thousands of intellectuals. The biggest opposition to the military movement is from the workmen, who demand abolition of the army.

Production of arms and ammunition has not ceased in Germany. According to the war office man, one company alone got an order for fifty million marks worth of rifle ammunition, the biggest order placed so far by the Republic.

FOR SUMMER WEAR

By Margaret Rhoe

In evening gown, the modern maid
Has not a bit of backing,
And yet she bares herself right well
And swains she ne'er is lacking

NEW YORK May 9—This is the coming out season for feminine backs. In fact it's a sort of a backing out. The bare back queen of the circus ring as she breaks lightly through paper hoop to cantering equines back has nothing on a bareback queen of the social circle, as she lightly breaks all precedent of bodice backs and doesn't give a whoop for the conventions. For, in truth, the naked truth, the queen of fashion has nothing on herself these evenings—at least in the rear—above the belt.

Paris, of course, is back of these backless evening gowns. Goodness knows there isn't anything else back of them, except perhaps a strap of silk of a string of jet.

Gorgeous as an Oriental dream are the fabrics and trimmings used to fashion these marvelous evening costumes. They gleam with all-over embroidery of gold and silver threads, irredescent beads and pailettes, mother-of-pearl sequins or white and black jet. Metallic brocades and shimmering satins, encrusted heavily with gold and silver appliques, are used to create those models which are turning the vacillating feminine from her straight and narrow chemise-slip lines into a Watteau Maruise, with puffs over the hips, flamboyant fullness of skirts, a well defined waistline and yet withall a well defined lack of back.

The all-over sequined and pearl beaded gowns still follow the straight chemise effects and lack sleeves, as well as rear bodices. The former deficit is oftn made up by flowing lengths of tulle that float from glittering shoulder straps and, weighted with beaded tassels, swing and pulsate at every move. What the back of the gown lacks above the belt is usually made up by a trailing bit of train that swishes its gleaming length behind, below the hem.

A shimmering little straight slip of a gown of silver gauze hung over with a splashing cascade of gleaming dewdrop beads of crystal, shows a decorous bodice to the fore that comes up so high has almost to have its wearer by the throat. Alas, she barely turns her back to a cold world, however, totally bereft of covering save for two twisted ropes of the silver gauze that glide, shimmering over each shoulder and cling desperately to a shred of sequined girdle for a rear support. The turning of a cold shoulder on a persistent swain these evenings is almost too literal to be pleasant to the turnee, for a May breeze is apt to be a bit chilly on a wholly unprotected surface of bare skin.

A decidedly daring and baring little dance frock of black chantilly lace and chiffon has a bodice composed solely of two equally wide bands of the chantilly, that pass from the big corsage girdle of chiffon in front over the shoulders to the low girdle behind and have nothing between bands but gleaming flesh tints, au naturelle, except for a tiny strand of jet across the shoulder blades, that holds the lacy straps in place. The skirt is short, fluffy and just one ruffle of lace and chiffon after another while a glittering rope of jet wrapped around the waist, falls to the knees in front and swings and sways.

Though the up to date charmer scorns to cover her back, she has taken to covering her head and with her oriental evening gowns she now swathes her coiffure with metallic gauze, sequined chiffon or brilliant satin lengths in contrast to her gown. This fashion is sure to be an awful blow to the hair dresser.

But to get back to back, these newest backless evening gowns at least make it perfectly obvious why you can't refer to a damsel's skin behind her back, as hide.

GERMAN PRESS BITTERLY ASSAILS TERMS SAYING THEY CAN NEVER SUBMIT TO SUCH SLAVERY

USUAL WAIL OF A WHIPPED DOG

BERLIN, May 8, Delayed—"The government has instructed its delegates to make counter proposals and claim the right of oral discussion" declared Chancellor Scheidemann in a statement. "We are dealing with an enemy blinded by self-policies," he said. Referring to President Wilson's fourteen points Scheidemann said "What becomes of the exchange of guarantees indicated in the fourth point. Count Brockdorff Rantzau faithfully interpreted the feeling of the empire when he said that we will examine the terms with good will."

BERLIN, May 8, Delayed—The Berlin press was unanimously bitter today in denouncing the peace terms.

"To accept means poverty, hunger and slavery," said the Tages Zeitung.

"The terms could not have been worse. Wilson's fourteen points are invisible," observed the Taglische Randschau.

"The most humiliating point is the demand for the Kaiser's surrender. The treaty oversteps the blackest expectations," according to the Tageblatt.

By FRED S. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, May 9—Work on the Austrian peace treaty is very nearly completed it was learned today. The "big four" called in economic and reparation experts to work out final details of the pact.

Aside from dissatisfaction with the apportionments of the mandatories by some of the Allies the German treaty apparently receives the full approval of all the Allied delegates themselves.

The Belgians have filed a protest with the "big four" against awarding the British the mandatory over German east Africa because of the important part played by the Belgians in the conquest of that region.

Unofficial reports have also been circulated that the Italians regret being cut off entirely from mandatories.

ST. LOUIS FEDERAL DISTRICT FIRST TO GO OVER TOP

WASHINGTON, May 9—The St. Louis Federal Reserve district has "finished the job" in the Victory Liberty Loan campaign. Subscriptions totalling $195,104,000 have been reported by that district to the treasury. Officials believe St. Louis is the first district to obtain its quota.

TWO NAVAL PLANES REACH HALIFAX OTHER TURNS BACK FOR REPAIRS

CHATHAM, Mass., May 9—The trans-Atlantic sea plane NC 4 which became disabled while flying from Rockaway Beach to Halifax landed at the naval air station here at 5:12 o'clock this morning. The NC 4 was forced to turn back on account of engine trouble, it was stated by naval officials. The plane landed here to make minor repairs after which it will start for Rockaway Beach, New York, where permanent repairs will be completed. According to plans the plane will make another start from Rockaway Beach as soon as possible. If it lands at Trepssey Bay, Newfoundland before the NC 3 and NC 1 start on the long journey across the Atlantic it will join the flight. Should the plane arrive after the others have started it was said that no attempt will be made to follow them.

GET A HELMET SATURDAY NIGHT

The General Victory Loan Committee has fourteen captured German helmets which will be chanced off to bond buyers some day next week. Every persons name appearing on a subscription blank will have an even chance at one of these helmets.

The Ladies Committee also have a quantity of helmets to dispose of and they have decided to auction their quota of helmets tomorrow evening just prior to the parade, probably about eight o'clock. The auction will be held from the steps of the Court House. The helmets will go to the biggest subscriber in the crowd. Be on hand for the auction. You may not have to buy a very big amount of bonds to get one of these coveted helmets.

Bond Buyer's Parade Will Form On Second And Walnut And Follow Short Route

HAVE YOU QUALIFIED FOR IT

Practically every industry in Clearfield will be represented in the Bond Buyers parade which is scheduled for tomorrow evening at nine o'clock. Following is the proposed lineup for the parade. Watch tomorrow evening's paper for further information.

Keep in mind that there are hundreds of store employees and tradesmen who will want to take a part in this demonstration of "job finishers" and do your shopping early tomorrow. Get your orders in early in the morning or if you pay and carry get up town early in the evening. This late Saturday night shopping is unfair to the merchant anyhow. Satrt tomorrow to buy early and keep it up for the balance of the year.

Business houses and residences are urged to display flags in profusion tomorrow.

Competent marshals will be selected and the parade will move promptly at nine o'clock.

The line of march will not be long. Down Second to Market; thence to Third; down Third to Reed; across Reed to Second; up Second to Market; counter march on Second and disband.

Parade formation will be as follows:

DRY LEGISLATION UP MONDAY

HARRISBURG, May 9 — The "search and seizure" amendment to the Fox Prohibition enforcement bill will furnish the excitement for next Monday's session of the House. The contest will be between the wets who are supporting the search and seizure amendment and the drys who are opposing it. The search and seizure amendment was made to the Fox bill at a time when great confusion prevailed in the House. Representative Fox, of Philadelphia, did not even know his bill has been amended until several days after the trick had been turned.

THE BAYONET AND THE MAN BEHIND THE BAYONET— Section of the parade of the 77th Division in New York giving a striking review of the mass formation.

PROPAGATION OF GAME FISH IS EXPLAINED

Chief of Fisheries Department For The State Is Guest Of Local Fishermen

BANQUET AT THE DIMELING

Clearfield fishermen had as their guest last evening State Fish Commissioner Nathan R. Buller, who drove up from Harrisburg in his car to meet our piscatorial experts and near-experts in response to an invitation extended him some two months or more ago.

Mr. Buller has been connected with the State Department of Fisheries since 1876 and is regarded as one of the most expert fish culturists in the country. He has been the head of the Dpartment of Fisheries since 1911 and under his capable direction great strides forward have been made in fish production and propagation. Mr. Buller "knows his business" and is eminently the right man in the right place.

At 8 o'clock last evening he talked to about one hundred dyed in the wool disciples of Izaak Walton in the court room and explained to them the operations of the department and the many propositions they were up against with the limited funds at their command.

According to Mr. Buller's statement there are more than 4000 streams and lages throughout the state which contain fish and are under the jurisdiction and care of the fisheries department, and at the present time it was simply impossible to even think of being able to adequately provide the necessary fish for propagating purposes.

The Commissioner stated that it was absolutely necessary that more money be provided for fish culture and as the present revenues for the state were insufficient the only way funds could be secured was by a fisherman's license law similar to the hunters' licence.

He said under the bill recommended by the department and now under consideration in the legislature a license fee of $1.00 is provided for all persons over 16 years of age, farmers and women excepted. The bill had been defeatd in the House at Harrisburg, but is scheduled for another consideration on Monday or Tuesday next and a resolution was unanimously passed asking the members of the Legislature from Clearfield county to vote for and support the bill at this time.

Mr. Buller talked on the matter of stream pollution in the state and said here again was the department handicapped for funds and could accomplish little along this line because of having but ten inspectors or warkens for the whole state. In this connection also Mr. Buller stated that in the matter of stream pollution it was a case of the lesser giving way to the greater, that is to say, where the benefit to be gained by an industry, mine or factory was so much greater than the value of the fish to be conserved by forcing the pollution out of the streams to the great disadvantage of the aforementioned concern, there could be no question what course would have to be taken. He cited the McCall's Ferry dam as a concrete illustration. He said this was the second largest power plant in the United States with a capital of $15,000,000; the dam was built under an order from the Dauphin county court and while the Fisheries department would gladly see built and the Power Co. were ready and willing to construct a fishway by which shad might negotiate the dam, they had never been able to evolve any plan which would do the work and he gave it as his personal opinion that it was practically impossible on account of the conditions to contend with to ever make possible the construction of a practical fishway at this dam.

Following the meeting in the court house all hands repaired to the Dimeling where a sumptuous banquet was tendered Mr. Buller. Manager McGinnis and his able corps of assistants did themselves proud on this occasion and a most enjoyable evening was the result.

J. D. Connelly officiated as toastmaster and speeches were made by Leslie Stewart, Hon. Joseph E. Phillips, Bert Rowles, P. W. Hurd, J. Emory Gearhart, Secretary Graffius and Mr. Buller.

The Fish Commissioner talked most interestingly of his work and gave a detailed story of fish propagation. He outlined the manner of artificial trout raising and showed that where under natural conditions but from three to five per cent. of the eggs deposited by the female trout became fertilized and developed fish, under the artificial methods in use at the state fish hatcheries from sixty to seventy per cent. of the egg deposits are made to produce fish.

Mr. Buller advocated the establishment of auxiliary hatcheries throughout the state in addition to the fully equipped plants now in operation and expressed himself as favoring the location of one of these auxiliary hatcheries in Clearfield county. Under his proposed plan the eggs would be produced in the hatching beds maintained as at present and would then be shipped to the auxiliary hatcheries for hatching and development. These auxiliary hatcheries will be made possible if the Fisherman's license bill goes through.

Following his remarks Mr. Buller answered a lot of questions about fish culture and propagation fired at him by the fishermen present. He said Erie was the largest fishing port in the state and the annual yield of food fishes taken from Lake Erie out of Pennsylvania waters amounted to more than 38,000 tons while 22,000 tons were taken on the Canadian side of the lake. These fish are raised largely through artificial means.

Mr. Buller in answer to a question also stated that a brook or brown trout would grow from two to ten inches in a year, its growth depending of course on environment and food.

FIND TRUE BILL IN MYSTERIOUS MURDER CASE

Ralph Ardary Must Go On Trial Next Week For Alleged Murder of His Cousin

BRILLIANT ARRAY OF COUNSEL

The grand jury returned a true bill yesterday afternoon in the case of Com. vs. Ralph Ardary. Ralph Ardary is charged with the murder of his cousin Lawrence Ardary, and his case will be tried next week before Judge Bell.

District Attorney Arnold will conduct the prosecution and A. M. Liveright and A. H. Woodward, Esqs. will have charge of the defense.

Ralph Ardary is a son of the late George Ardar, the well known Lawrence township farmer, who was found dying in his bed, with a bullet wound through his head a couple of months previous to the shooting affray in which Lawrence Ardary lost his life. This affair occurred in the barn on the George Ardary farm.

The Ardary double shooting is about the most perplexing mystery in the recent criminal history of Clearfield county and next week's trial will create much more than usual interest among the people of this section of the county, and following our usual custom of giving all the news in snappy up to date style The Progress will cover the case thoroughly.

TEN THOUSAND FIGHTING YANKS LANDED IN NEW YORK TODAY

NEW YORK, May 9—Four transports carrying 10,532 American soldiers coming home from the war arrived here today. They were the Mongolia, Great Northern, St. Cecelia, and the Kentuckian. The units on the Mongolia included the 53rd Artillery Brigade headquarters for Camp Dix, 107th Field Artillery, mostly for Camp Dix, 109th Field Artillery, Camp Dix, 103d Sanitary Train, detachment of 103rd Engineers, 28th division Headquarters and scattered casuals. Brigadier General Wm. C. Price, commander of the 53rd Field Artillery Brigade arrived. Most of the Mongolia's troops were the 28th division men.

BACK FROM FLANDERS

'Tis summer now in Flanders Field,
Where our loved ones are sleeping,
And here at home our hearts are full;
Some of us are weeping.

They paid the debt and shall we not,
Of this our share be keeping?
Perhaps your boy is home again,
And all give joyful greeting.
Your neighbors boys all will not come,
To them joy seems so fleeting.

Let's pay the debt that we all owe,
That through all time the world may know
We don't forget why poppies grow
On mounds we own "in Flanders."

PRESIDENT WILSON APPEALS TO YOU!

WASHINGTON, May 9—President Wilson today appealed to the American people to make the Victory Liberty Loan "a great popular thanks offering."

In a cable to Secretary Glass the President declared that a victorious peace should be accompanied by a successful financial backing.

Keep Money working and the Country will keep prosperous.

LIKE stagnant water, stagnant money breeds nothing useful.

Like rushing water the power of money in motion is practically irresistible.

Every dollar invested in the Victory Liberty Loan will be put to work and kept at work. Every dollar will pay interest regularly and every dollar will be returned. Meanwhile, the Nation will be cleansed of debt, the value of business improved and the country's prosperity insured to all.

Use the Gasoline the Trucks Use

Truck-owners do not buy gasoline by guess. They know. They keep records of the gasoline put in and the miles taken out. They buy Power.

It is not surprising, then, that Atlantic Gasoline is the choice of the majority of truck-owners.

Trucks are not driven for pleasure. They are a business proposition, pure and simple. They must make good on a business basis. Hauling costs are determined to the penny.

What is the lesson for you? Simply this:

Truck-users have experimented for you. They have found that Atlantic gives the most. No sentiment in that. Cold fact based on day-after-day experience with loads and roads. Atlantic is their choice. For Atlantic is Power.

In the light of such experience, will you continue to ask merely for "gasoline"?

Or, will you say, state, declare and affirm that you want Atlantic Gasoline and that no other motor-fuel will do?

Use the gasoline the trucks use.

COLLEGE SANDWICHES.

There is no place where a sandwich is more appreciated than at a college girls' luncheon. They may be prepared from countless combinations, costly or otherwise. The bread for sandwiches should be a day or two old and sliced very thin. When butter is used for the first spreading, it is best creamed, as it may be thus spread very thin.

Sandwich de Luxe.—Mix a few stalks of shredded mint with quince jelly and spread this mixture on slices of stale sponge cake cut very thin and put together sandwich fashion.

Nuts With Dates.—Take equal quantities of dates and nuts, run through a meat chopper and add to each cupful of the mixture one-quarter of a cup of maple sugar with enough cream to make a mixture to spread. Use as a filling on bread, toasted sponge cake, or any loaf cake.

Japanese Sandwiches.—Use equal quantities of almonds and preserved cherries, chop the cherries or grind them and pound the almonds to a paste, mix with a little almond extract and if moisture is needed, a little cream.

Mexican Hots.—Chop one tomato, one onion and one green pepper, season with salt, red pepper and vinegar; spread on wafers or bread.

Chocolate, two squares, melted and partly cooled, then add one-half cup of brown sugar and two tablespoonfuls of cream. Flavor with vanilla and add a few chopped nut meats. This makes an unusual sandwich.

SEASONABLE FOOD.

Beef hearts are not expensive and when stuffed make a most savory meat.

Calves' hearts may be cut in slices and cooked in hot fat until well browned and served with baked potatoes.

Lamb Goulash.—Take two lamb's hearts well-washed and all the arteries removed, cut in inch-sized pieces and parboil. Mince very fine, eight onions, three green peppers, place in a deep saucepan and add the prepared hearts, one teaspoonful of thyme, a pinch of sage, and a quart of boiling water; cook until the meat is tender then add a dozen dumplings made as follows: one beaten egg, a half-teaspoonful of salt, a cupful of buttermilk, a teaspoonful of baking powder sifted with a cupful of flour; add enough flour to make a soft drop batter and steam eight minutes if the dumplings are dropped from a teaspoon.

Veal Cutlets.—Cut veal steak into pieces two by three inches and flatten well, dip in egg then in bread crumbs and fry a golden brown in hot fat. Place in the oven to finish cooking for twenty minutes. Drain the fat from the pan, and add two tablespoonfuls of flour. Brown quickly and add a cupful of water. Bring to a boil and cook five minutes. Add a teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of paprika, one tablespoonful of grated onion and two tablespoonfuls of minced green pepper. Place the meat on a platter and pour the sauce around it.

Lamb or Mutton With Carrots.—The woolly flavor of mutton which is so objectionable to many palates, may be almost wholly removed by care in preparation, provided the butcher has been careful. The meat should never be touched by hands that have handled the wool. The wool grows on the skin, and if the skin is carefully removed it takes with it that woolly flavor. Brown a slice of mutton, cut in serving sized pieces, and sprinkle with a generous dredging of flour; season well, add a finely-minced onion and a pint of canned corn (Shoepeg), with water to simmer for two or three hours on the back of the stove or in a moderate oven. The flour will thicken the broth a little for a gravy. Serve the corn with the gravy and meat.

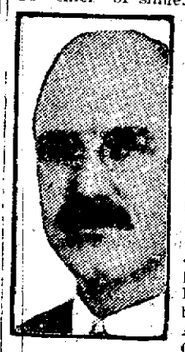
The Chief of Sinners

By REV. L. W. GOSNELL
Assistant Dean, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—This is a faithful saying, worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.—1 Tim. 1:15.

A number of people have claimed to be "chief" of sinners. We might not be surprised at this, in itself, but it is surprising to learn the character of the people who have made this claim. Paul asserted it after years spent in the service of Christ preceded by years of correct living as a Pharisee. John Bunyan, a prisoner of the Lord, entitles his biography "Grace Abounding to the Chief of Sinners." John Wesley, always correct in his outward life, and for more than half a century a zealous worker for God, voiced his feelings in the lines:



"I the chief of sinners am,
But Jesus died for me."

Why do these men, whom we regard as the greatest saints, so describe themselves? Certain it is that they are not hypocrites, like the man in Robert Burns' poem who called himself the chief of sinners and went on sinning so that grace might abound! It is just as certain they were not in that state of mind so well described in the following words of Robert Murray McCheyne: "Is it possible, think you, for a person to be conceited of his miseries? May there not be a deep leaven of pride in telling how desolate and how unfeeling we are—in brooding over our unearthly pains—in our being excluded from the sympathies of the world—in our being the invalids of Christ's hospital?" The men of whom we have been speaking believed on Christ and rejoiced in his salvation, yet still called themselves the chief of sinners. Again we ask, why do they so describe themselves?

We would sum up an answer in these words: Saints know their own sins better than anyone else and better than the sins of anyone else. They feel the possibilities of evil stirring within them and understand why the martyr exclaimed, as he watched the murderer who passed by on the way to the gallows, "There I go, but for the grace of God." John Bunyan's chief sins, in his unregenerate days, were profanity and lying, but one has said: "It was spiritual sins which in after years laid their heavy weight over his conscience, and these, as his greatest biographer well says, may be even more deadly than sensual sins in their moral recoil, laying bare the powers of the soul." No matter how close to Christ we walk, our sense of obligation to him for saving and keeping us will be so profound that we shall say sincerely, "Sinners, of whom I am chief."

How happy that Paul can assure us, "This is a faithful saying, worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." Some find it hard to believe this good news. Referring to John Bunyan again, we recall how he feared the day of grace was past for him. How happy he was to read the Scripture which says, "Compel them to come in," and the further statement, "Yet there is room." Coming to more recent days, we think of Samuel Hadley, for many years the superintendent of the Water Street mission of New York. He had fallen very low in sin and seemed a hopeless victim of drink. When he sought the Lord his one question was, "Dear Jesus, can you help me?" How blessed to know that the saying is faithful, reliable and worthy of acceptation by all men everywhere, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.

Even if we had no such explicit statement, his very name would assure us of his mission. "Christ" is the Greek form of the Jewish "Messiah" and tells us that this is the one so long foretold by prophets as coming to bear the sins of the world. "Jesus" is the Greek form of the Hebrew "Joshua," meaning "God is Saviour." But we are not left to an inference from his names but are plainly told that his very purpose in coming into the world was "to save sinners." He saves us, not in spite of the fact that we are sinners, but because of that very fact. We recall the man who went to good Lady Huntingdon in great distress of soul and crying, "I am lost!" "How glad I am," she replied, "for the Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost."

Wondrous Works of God.

"Stand still and consider the wondrous works of God," says the Bible. Religion will improve by getting more of nature in it, and men will improve by loving it. Says Cowper: "Nature is but a name for an effect whose cause is God." If one takes the golden rule with him he can get to heaven by following the path that leads among the flowers and the woods. This should be understood, for it purifies the heart and brings about the upward look. There is less hope for a man who does not read God's own word in his works

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

The death of Oliver C. Livingston, one of Curwensville's best known citizens, occurred at his home on Main street early Thursday morning after a short illness.

Deceased was born at this place where, with the exception of a few years, he has always resided. After several years employment at the Summit tannery he went into business for himself, conducting a restaurant until about a year ago when ill health forced him to dispose of it.

He was married to Miss Annie Lorimer who with three sons, William, of Pittsburgh; Paul, enlisted in the navy and Charles, with the A. E. F. in France survive him. Also two sisters Mrs. J. C. Wright, of this place, and Mrs. Samuel Irvin of Lewistown, Pa. and one brother Meade Livingston.

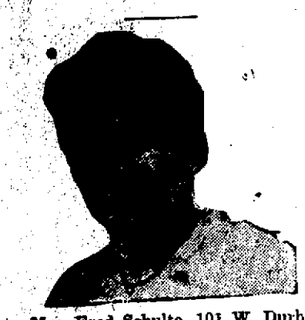
Speaks Good Word For Her Rescuer



Mrs. Fred Schulte, 101 W. Durham St. Philadelphia, believes in giving credit where credit is due. "I had a run-down system," she says, "and suffered from stomach trouble and a nervous form of indigestion. I would get all upset with a sort of inside nervousness, sometimes with headaches around my temples and eyes. Felt as if something inside me would just jump out and I had more or less gastritis with it all. I heard where Tanlac had helped cases like mine. It didn't take me long to find out Tanlac was just the remedy for me."

The genuine J. I. Gore Co. Tanlac is sold here by Stewart Drug Co., Woodward & McPherson and other leading druggists in every community.

In Argentina every man over twenty who does not get married is taxed $5 a month for every month he remains single, until he is thirty. If he has still fougt shy of matrimonial bliss at tis age the tax is increased to $10 a month until he is thirty-five. From thirty-five to fifty the tax is $20 a month, and then $30 a month till seventy-five. Hearty old bachelors over that age, however, are taxed only $30 a month, on the principle that no blushing spinster will look at them.

Tristan da Cunha, in the South Atlantic, is one of the most isolated islands in the world, and its history has been exceedingl romantic. The first settlers there were two shipwrecked mariners, who were washed up on its shores more than a hundred years ago. The population has since been increased by other shipwrecked folk, and by people who have been attracted there by the glamor of island lif. Today, the island has a population of 108 persons.

CLEARFIELD'S MOST TALENTED AMATEURS TO PRESENT "THE MIKADO" NEXT WEEK

OLD-TIME STARS WILL APPEAR IN OPERA

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of Next Week To Be Big Nights For Music Lovers

"KO-KO" WILL MAKE YOU SMILE

Clearfield theatre-goers will be given the opportunity to hear on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week, the charming rendition of Gilbert & Sullivan's melodious masterpiece of comic opera, the tuneful "Mikado." This old but ever young and welcome favorite will be given at the New Driggs theatre by the very best of local talent under the direction of James Kerr, whose reputation as a producer of amateur theatricals is thoroughly in keeping with the extremely high class of the production to be given.

Every part has been exceptionally well taken and the thirty or forty people engaged have worked long, hard and faithfully to equip themselves for a proper interpretation of the pleasing characters and charming music which has long served to make "The Mikado" famous and justly popular in every spot where tuneful music is known and clever acting appreciated.

The principal characters are assumed as follows:

The Mikado of Japan — Paul Stauffer

Nanki-Poo, (His son disguised as a wandering minstrel and in love with Yum-Yum) — John H. Fulford

Ko-Ko (Lord High Executioner of Titipu) — J. Fred Weaver

Pooh-Bah (Lord High Everything Else) — John M. Bain

Pish-Tush (a Noble Lord) — Way Powell

Yum-Yum — Mrs. Cornelia Reeves

Pitti-Sing — Mrs. Rebecca Stauffer

Peep-Bo — Miss Rebecca Smith

Three Sisters, wards of Ko-Ko

Katisha (an elderly lady, in love with Nanki-Poo) — Miss Augusta Connelly

Chorus of school girls, nobles guards and coolies.

The production will be admirably and most effectively staged. Handsome Japanese scenery depicting the court yard of Ko-Ko's official residence and garden has been provided while the grace and beauty of scene and actors will be greatly enhanced by the gorgeous costumes worn.

A glance at the 'dramatis personæ" will readily confirm our statement that the very cream of local talent has been engaged for these performances and those familiar with Clearfield amateur theatricals in the past will readily guarantee the unlimited success of the production and the pleasure in store for those fortunate enough to be able to attend one or all of the performances.

This entertainment is being given under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Clearfield hospital and the proceeds to be derived therefrom will be utilized for the benefit of this splendid institution which means so much to suffering humanity in and about Clearfield and almost the whole of Clearfield county.

Every person who can possibly do so should make it a point to attend one of these performances of "The Mikado," or if unable to be present should at least show his appreciation of the efforts of Producer Kerr and his players and the institution to be the sole beneficiary by purchasing tickets therefor.

"The Mikado" will be well worth your presence and attention from an artistic and entertainment standpoint, while the charitable object, we reiterate, makes it your duty as a public spirited citizen to support this worthy project.

The Flow of Meat

Two-thirds of the live stock in the United States has to be raised in the West.

One-half of the consumers of meat live in the East.

In other words, most of the live stock is one or two thousand miles distant from most of the people who need it in the form of food.

Fifty years ago, when live stock was raised close to every consuming center, the country butcher could handle the job after a fashion.

But the job got too big.

Now millions of animals have to be moved hundreds of miles to millions of people. Somewhere on the way they have to be turned into meat.

The packers solved the problem. They set up plants where the "live haul" and the "meat haul" were in the right balance. They eliminated waste. They built up distributing systems—refrigerator cars, refrigerating plants, branch houses. They saved time, money and meat everywhere. The stockraiser benefited in better markets and higher prices; the consumer, in better meat and lower prices.

As the country grew, the packers had to grow, or break down. Because of its present size and efficiency, Swift & Company is able to perform its part in this service at a fraction of a cent per pound profit.

MILITARISM GROWS IN GERMANY UNDER EXCUSE OF "BOLSHEVISM"

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, April 24 (By Mail)—Since its birth the German Republic has had to decide between two opposite extremes to maintain itself and keep from being overthrown by the radicals.

The two courses open, as the Ebert-Scheidemann cabinet saw them, were.

1. Bowing to the demands of the proletariat and becoming radical, almost to the extent of communism, or at least extreme socialism.

2. Becoming militaristic and following the methods of the old German government of crushing opposition by force.

More and more it is becoming clear that the cabinet chose the latter course, probably in self-defense, and under the pretext of saving Germany from bolshevism.

What is more serious, both to the Germans and other peoples, is that the German Republic is becoming handy with militarism, and under the cover of "resisting bolshevism" is evidently trying to hide the strength of the Republic's military machine.

Figuring that the new Republic, if it were really pacific, would be willing to make a "show-down" of Germany's military strength to convince the outside world of good intentions, the United Press correspondent asked the War Office for some data.

Finally the War Office sent for the correspondent and an agreeable young captain, explained how weak Germany s at present militarily. He said Germany could not even resist the bolsheviks if the latter chose to rise.

Asked what the actual strength of the German forces is, the captain replied that the War Office itself dio not know. This ignorance of the War Office, he explained by the fact that numerous leaders were organizing new volunteer units. The captain declined to guess the strength of the German forces on the grounds that he did not want the figures published "for fear the bolsheviks would see how weak the militia is and overthrow it."

Every man in the army is a volunteer, according to the War Office. Berlin is crowded with soldiers scattered over the city, but this is due to the fact, says the War Office, that members of the old army regulars who are no longer on active duty, have to be housed. Hence the crowded barracks. The War Office offered no explanation as to why these men were fed and housed, though inactive and the active work of guarding Berlin is done largely by provincial troops.

Enlistment is indefinite, in the volunteer units, with the condition that

GENERAL LABOR NEWS

The National Association of Laundry Workers has a membership of over 6,000.

Labor unions in the United States have a total membership of over 3,000,000.

The Blythe (Eng.) Soldiers and Sailors' federation has refused to join the Labor party.

Chemical workers' wages in England have increased to a greater extent than the cost of living.

Teamsters, chauffeurs, retail clerks and textile workers in Long Beach, Cal., have organized.

Organized cap makers in New Haven, Conn., have secured a flat wage increase of $2 per week.

Over 10,000,000 workers are represented by the 800 delegates attending the big British parliament.

Fire fighters in Macon, Ga., have formed a union with the idea of having their wages increased.

Three thousand flour mill employees in Mexico City are demanding an eight-hour day and higher wages.

It is estimated that 55,000 people out of the 90,000 now employed by the government as clerks will be retained.

Miners of Nova Scotia were admitted to membership in the United Mine Works of America. The decision affects 12,000 workers.

Foremen in the Hog Island shipbuilding yard have accepted a compromise of $2 a week increase in wages instead of $6, which they demanded.

Labor conditions for the near future will most likely be based on a universal eight-hour day in all countries, both European and American.

The epidemic of child labor spreading at alarming rate should receive immediate remedial attention, to offset future evil.—Schenectady Union Star.

The strike of textile workers, which has been in progress eight weeks, involving 13,000 men and women and which resulted in serious rioting, was settled at a conference at Passaic, N. J.

Wage increases of 10 per cent, with time and a half for overtime, and retroactive to November 1, 1918, were awarded by the war labor board in the case of Brushmakers' Local No. 35, against the Chicago Brush Manufacturing company.

Constitutionality of the Arizona act of 1913 limiting employment of women to eight hours a day was upheld by the Supreme court in disposing of appeals attacking the act on the ground that it discriminated between the employment of waitresses in railroad restaurants and other restaurants.

The strike of 7,000 white goods workers at New York was brought to a close when a mass meeting of girls in Cooper Union ratified an agreement conceding to them the 44-hour work week, a 10 per cent increase in wages, and the union shop. The agreement is to last two years. It was drawn up by Dr. Henry Moskowitz, who settled the white goods strike of 1913.

Three hundred German women factory workers, many of them widows of soldiers, have applied to the Third American army headquarters in Coblenz for employment, claiming that with the ending of the war they had been thrown out of work.

The United Cotton Textile factory Workers' association in England has decided to recommend a scheme for a 44-hour week, the present hours worked in the cotton trade being 55½ a week. About 500,000 operatives are interested in the movement.

That wages should not be reduced while the agreement between the government and the United Mine Workers was still in force, but that after March 31, when the agreement expires, they will be free to act as they wish, was the advice given by W. H. Armstrong, Alberta representative of the Canada fuel board, to the local coal operators.

The Spanish government has issued a decree establishing an eight hour day in the building trades. This action, it is believed, will settle the lockout of the building contractors against their employees.

Suppose Your Laundress Paid You $1.50 a Week?

It is rather difficult to suppose—but, then, there are human laundresses, and the mechanical kind. Genuine wash-day economy is part of the year-in-and-year-out benefit of the

MOTOR HIGH SPEED WASHER

It saves time—at least three hours a week—156 hours a year—or half a month annually, and that surely averages a dollar a week.

It saves clothes: No more tearing or rubbing the goodness out of garments and linen. It saves fuel—and it promotes health, because the steam and slop of wash-day vanishes with the drudgery.

The saving is real—and constant, and you should call, soon, to see the Motor High Speed Washer!

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

a man can leave the militia upon giving four weeks notice. Every unit has a band, many of the first rate. Guards with rifles ready are everywhere, and auto trucks armed with machine guns roam about the city in search for trouble. Barbed wire barricades are not removed from many streets since the last fighting.

Except for a wave of crime, robbery and plundering, which swept Berlin the last week in March, Berlin is well protected. The War Office is busy and rushing. Swank officers are numerous and are as monocled and military as in the old days. Democracy is manifested, however, in the agreeable way the War Office treat outsiders—a new thing in Germany.

So much for what the War Office wanted United Press readers to believe. What the War Office wanted United Press readers to believe. What the War Office did not give out through the agreeable captain was gathered through a major who has been converted to pacifism. He sought out a friend high up in the War Office and secured some first hand information, because he believed publicity might lead to action which may prevent the re-birth of militarism in Germany.

The friend in the War Office remarked in answer to the major's query as to Germany's strength. "Well, we could muster a million men along the Rhine in less than a week. They'd have plenty of cannon and machine-guns and ammunition to hold out for a while, in a pinch."

The "high up" said Germany has more than two-hundred seventy-five thousand helmeted men under arms, in actual service now. Of these, seventy thousand are in Berlin, sixty thousand are in the Rhur district, guarding the industrial district, supposedly, and the remainder are scattered between the Polish front and other cities in which disturbances are expected.

A noticeable feature is that the majority of troops are not along the Bolshevik front, but are scattered between the Polish front and other cities in which disturbances are expected.

A noticeable feature is that the majority of troops are not along the Bolshevik front, but are scattered over the country. The government evidently fears radicalism much more from within than from without. The government is determined to crush all opposition. Practically all of Germany is in a state of siege. This state has never been lifted from Berlin. There are thirty thousand reserve officers in Berlin, all registered and within call.

An additional source of troops is the so-called "citizens' guard," civilians who are ready to report on call, under government orders. The War Office, said the War Office man, knows where the machine-guns, grenades, and other supplies are located.

Government troops are becoming more and more loyal, due to the privilege and the food they get. While the women and children are hungry, good food is allowed to spoil, reserved for military emergencies.

The Berliner Tageblatt printed on exposure on April 3 of how in Hamburg, enormous military supplies of butter, bacon, ham, conserves, beans, rice rye meal, cocoa and other foods were rotting while, thousands in the city starved.

Radical and pacifist Germany dreads this growth of the military under the pretext of preparing to combat bolshevism. The radicals and pacifists include thousands of intellectuals. The biggest opposition to the military movement is from the workmen, who demand abolition of the army.

Production of arms and ammunition has not ceased in Germany. According to the war office man, one company alone got an order for fifty million marks worth of rifle ammunition, the biggest order placed so far by the Republic.

FOR SUMMER WEAR

By Margaret Rhoe

In evening gown, the modern maid
Has not a bit of backing,
And yet she bares herself right well
And swains she ne'er is lacking

NEW YORK May 9—This is the coming out season for feminine backs. In fact it's a sort of a backing out. The bare back queen of the circus ring as she breaks lightly through paper hoop to cantering equines back has nothing on a bareback queen of the social circle, as she lightly breaks all precedent of bodice backs and doesn't give a whoop for the conventions. For, in truth, the naked truth, the queen of fashion has nothing on herself these evenings—at least in the rear—above the belt.

Paris, of course, is back of these backless evening gowns. Goodness knows there isn't anything else back of them, except perhaps a strap of silk of a string of jet.

Gorgeous as an Oriental dream are the fabrics and trimmings used to fashion these marvelous evening costumes. They gleam with all-over embroidery of gold and silver threads, irredescent beads and pailettes, mother-of-pearl sequins or white and black jet. Metallic brocades and shimmering satins, encrusted heavily with gold and silver appliques, are used to create those models which are turning the vacillating feminine from her straight and narrow chemise-slip lines into a Watteau Maruise, with puffs over the hips, flamboyant fullness of skirts, a well defined waistline and yet withall a well defined lack of back.

The all-over sequined and pearl beaded gowns still follow the straight chemise effects and lack sleeves, as well as rear bodices. The former deficit is oftn made up by flowing lengths of tulle that float from glittering shoulder straps and, weighted with beaded tassels, swing and pulsate at every move. What the back of the gown lacks above the belt is usually made up by a trailing bit of train that swishes its gleaming length behind, below the hem.

A shimmering little straight slip of a gown of silver gauze hung over with a splashing cascade of gleaming dewdrop beads of crystal, shows a decorous bodice to the fore that comes up so high has almost to have its wearer by the throat. Alas, she barely turns her back to a cold world, however, totally bereft of covering save for two twisted ropes of the silver gauze that glide, shimmering over each shoulder and cling desperately to a shred of sequined girdle for a rear support. The turning of a cold shoulder on a persistent swain these evenings is almost too literal to be pleasant to the turnee, for a May breeze is apt to be a bit chilly on a wholly unprotected surface of bare skin.

A decidedly daring and baring little dance frock of black chantilly lace and chiffon has a bodice composed solely of two equally wide bands of the chantilly, that pass from the big corsage girdle of chiffon in front over the shoulders to the low girdle behind and have nothing between bands but gleaming flesh tints, au naturelle, except for a tiny strand of jet across the shoulder blades, that holds the lacy straps in place. The skirt is short, fluffy and just one ruffle of lace and chiffon after another while a glittering rope of jet wrapped around the waist, falls to the knees in front and swings and sways.

Though the up to date charmer scorns to cover her back, she has taken to covering her head and with her oriental evening gowns she now swathes her coiffure with metallic gauze, sequined chiffon or brilliant satin lengths in contrast to her gown. This fashion is sure to be an awful blow to the hair dresser.

But to get back to back, these newest backless evening gowns at least make it perfectly obvious why you can't refer to a damsel's skin behind her back, as hide.
